The Puget Sound Naval Bases Association hosted its Annual Reception and Dinner on August 5, 2005, at the beautiful Kitsap Conference Center in Bremerton, Washington.

Guests enjoyed the company of Congressman Norm Dicks, Bremerton Mayor Cary Bozeman and Kitsap County Commissioner Patty Lent. The Navy was well represented with the attendance of Admiral Frank Drennan, Captain Doug Biesel, Captain T. J. Dargan, Captain Dan Peters, and Captain Dave Thomas, to name a few.

During the evening's program, three past Board Members of the PSNBA were honored for their significant contributions to the association: Mr. Bert Gegner, Mr. Jim Adrian and Mr. Roland Arper.

The keynote speaker was Vice Admiral Terrence T. Etnyre, Commander, Naval Surface Force, and Commander, Naval Surface Force, U.S. Pacific Fleet. Vice Admiral Etnyre gave a wonderful overview of the current state of our surface forces, as well as a look into the future of where the surface force community was heading.

His presentation was followed by a question and answer session, which gave the guests a valuable opportunity to interact with the Admiral.

Message from the President...

What a year this has been! Over the past year the PSNBA Board Members were very busy with numerous trips and events. Several of our Board members traveled to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii to visit with the Commander of the Pacific Fleet, and later to Washington, D.C. to visit with Admiral Kirkland Donald. Issues important to our local bases were discussed and solutions were presented. The tone of both visits was very positive and the issues discussed reflected well on our local bases.

PSNBA hosted receptions for the Commander of NAVSEA, the Commander of Surface Forces Pacific, and the Pacific Fleet's Maintenance Officer. Each reception provided a wonderful opportunity for naval personnel, local businesses, and community members to interact and learn more about the Navy presence here in Puget Sound. I highly encourage you to attend one of these events in the future. (Watch the Events page on the web site to find out when these are happening.)

In October, PSNBA held its Annual Meeting and I had the distinct pleasure of turning over the leadership of this great organization to Mr. Tim Thomson. Tim and his new Executive Board (which comprises of many familiar faces) are excited about carrying forward the great job we have done over the past three years. Mr. Jim Oas has stepped down as an active member of the Executive Board and he will certainly be missed. His positive spirit was such a bright light within our Executive Board, and I appreciate the commitment he and his family made to PSNBA and to our thousands of mem-

PSNBA Represented at Navy Region Northwest Change of Command

Tim Thomson, Second Vice President, represented the PSNBA at the Navy Region Northwest Change of Command Ceremony on August 19, 2005.

Rear Admiral Len Hering was relieved by Rear Admiral William French. Guest speaker Rear Admiral Christopher Weaver, Chief of Naval Installations, presided over the ceremony.

Rear Admiral Weaver commended Rear Admiral Hering for his exceptional leadership, which has made the Navy Region Northwest one of the most efficiently operated Navy regions. For that effort, Rear Admiral Hering was awarded the Legion of Merit.

After the ceremony, Rear Admiral Hering spoke with Mr. Thomson and expressed his appreciation for the PSNBA's contributions to the Navy community.

PSNBA Welcomes Admiral French

The PSNBA is always pleased to welcome Navy leaders to our region and to celebrate the assignment of new officers to local installations. A wonderful reception was held for Rear Admiral W. French, Commander, Navy Region Northwest, on Friday, August 26th at the Undersea Warfare Museum at Keyport.

The reception for Rear Admiral French was well attended by fellow Navy leaders, including Rear Admiral Frank Drennan, Commander, Submarine Group 9; Captain Daniel Peters, Commanding Officer, Puget Sound Naval Shipyard and Intermediate Maintenance Facility; and Captain Reid Tanaka, Commanding Officer, Naval Base Kitsap; as well as many others

Earlier that day, Captain Tanaka had relieved Captain D. Biesel of command of Naval Base Kitsap. Captain Biesel, also in attendance at the event, received well wishes on his new assignment back to the Pentagon.

Elected officials, always in attendance at PSNBA events, participated warmly in welcoming Rear Admiral French and his family to the Puget Sound. Senator Maria Cantwell sent a letter of welcome, which was read to those in attendance by the PSNBA First Vice President, April Mills. Staff personnel from both Congressman Dicks' and Congressman Inslee's office also shared their welcome and respects for Rear Admiral French.

The celebration, which lasted for over three hours, was a relaxing and inviting event, demonstrating the excellent relationships that the PSNBA has fostered between community and Navy leaders. Anyone interested in attending future PSNBA events may monitor the events calendar on the PSNBA web site (www.psnba.org).

bers. On a positive note, Mr. Oas is not gone for good. He will remain an active member of our General Board of Directors.

Finally, I was relieved to hear that the results of the Department of Defense Base Realignment and Closure Commission's decisions were favorable to our local bases. Our county officials and community leaders worked diligently to ensure that our bases were evaluated in the most positive light possible during that process. Now that the process has been completed, the PSNBA Board is faced with a number of new issues and initiatives that are important to this region. Please continue to support PSNBA! I intend to continue my involvement with this great organization as an ambassador of sorts, working with our nation's senior Navy leadership to build and strengthen those vital relationships.

I would like to thank the Board of Directors and the General Membership for giving me the opportunity to lead PSNBA over the past three years. I will continue to treasure the friendships and memories that have been created on this remarkable journey.
